CLJ Law Series Acts of Parliament

Features

- gazetted Acts and List of Amendments
- list of sections/parts amended
- table of cases
- rules and regulations
- annotations where necessary
- convenience, simplicity, usefulness
- research work made easy

Ignorance of the law is no excuse! All the more that you should equip yourself with the Acts of Parliament published under the CLJ Law series by the Malaysian Current Law Journal Sdn Bhd and arm yourself with Malaysia's governing laws. These publications are not simply gazetted versions of the Acts. They have value-added information in the form of a list of sections/parts amended, a table of cases where available and annotations where necessary (see samples below). The list of sections/parts amended is primarily an index to the governing laws pre and post amendments to the Act. It provides you the amending authorities that have amended the particular sections of the Act. The date of coming into force of the amending authorities can be found in the List of Amendments which is part of the gazetted Act. Conversely, the table of cases provides a list of cases decided on particular sections of the Act. The legal practitioner would find this very beneficial in preparing for his brief. Some of the Acts too carry relevant rules and regulations vital to the principal Act.

These publications come in clear and easy to read style designed with the reader in mind. They are also packaged attractively and conveniently for ease of conveyance. Research work is made much easier and less time consuming. As time is a crucial consideration in today's global world, these publications arm you with the governing laws in a convenient, simple and useful style resulting in effective time management.
