

About the book

From time to time, the Bar Council, to address prevailing circumstances or in response to enquiries made by Advocates and Solicitors or members of the public, issues Rulings to regulate matters concerning legal practice, and professional conduct and etiquette of Advocates and Solicitors. The Rulings serve as a guide in maintaining the decorum of the long-respected and honoured profession.

The Rules and Rulings of the Bar Council Malaysia are revised and brought up to date from time to time. This updated version is intended to provide Members of the Bar with a quick point of reference and includes new Rulings issued in recent years.

Together with the Legal Profession (Practice and Etiquette) Rules 1978 and the Legal Profession (Publicity) Rules 2001, this compilation should serve as an indispensable guide to Members of the Bar as well as pupils in chambers.
